I can't wait

so much fun together together much. But I'll never forget all the fun we had since the second grade, even though we did start out as partners in Communion & hate each other.

I'll love of luck & love

SENIORS

long, but sure have enjoyed being with you. Hope there will be more. Gail you are a very sweet gal and cuter as cute can be. So stay that way.

Here's hoping there will be more good times to come. Love "Vickie"

VIOLA DAVIS
"Vickie"

Vickie is the girl with the "very promising" future. She seldom loses her temper. She has a smile and a cheerful greeting for all.

LUCY FLYNT
"Lootie"

Her jolly laughter can be heard ringing through the halls of dear old O'Donoghue. Her temper is a bit flary at times, but it matches her hair. It doesn't take long for her to become herself again.

Gail, I the last will, I left you my popularity. I don't think you need it though. I don't let it go to your head. because you are cute now. Stay that way cause you won't be Gail if you change. Love ya! "Lootie"

SENIORS

*Hi Bette,
You are one sweet little girl. I think of you once in a while, huh
Love
Mary A.*

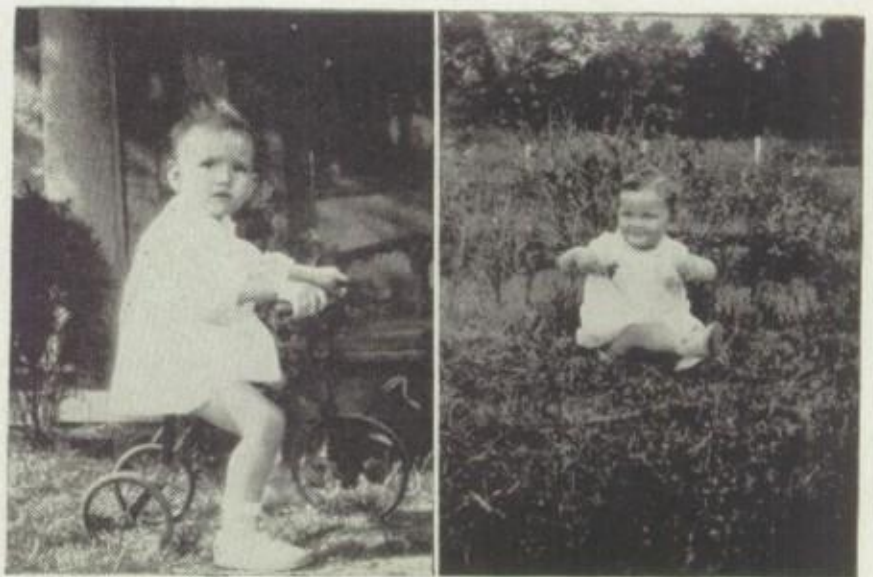

BETTE FREESE
"Bette"

Bette is well liked by both students and teachers. Her good humor and witty remarks brighten one's day with smiles and laughter.

MARY AGNES KELLEY
"Babe"

"Editor of our school paper." This is sufficient, for if you read her editorials, you will know her. She is the orator of our class.

Handwritten note:
I think you are one of the most lovely girls
I have ever known.
Love,
Bette

DOROTHY MILLER
"Dot"

Dot is a new member of our class. She has won her way into our hearts with her sincere generosity and kindness to everyone.

COLLEEN MOORE
"Colleen"

Colleen is noted for her deep consideration for others. She is most thoughtful and sincere.

SENIORS

JEAN MUELLER
"Jean"

Jean is our "Public Speaker."
Her friendliness and cute wit endear her to all. Her favorite pastime is making people smile.

MARY ANN O'CONNOR
"Mary Ann"

Somehow we think of Mary Ann as part of O'D. She has been here for so long, that the place will seem strange without her. She has a bright outlook on life as was proved recently when she had a very serious accident. We will miss her when she goes.

Gail
It's been grand knowing you and it's too bad
I have to leave just as you're beginning your high school career. Be good and don't ever forget me.
 FRANCES RAY
frances
 "Panky"

Frances is a good mixer. Her disposition is the attractive part of her. Nothing can daunt her. She very easily overcomes all difficulties.

CLASS HISTORY

In the fall of 1935, a group of boys and girls started here at O'Donoghue to seek all the knowledge they could in the years that lay before them. From that group of First Graders, that began on that particular day, we have remaining with us now, as Seniors, only two, Frances Ray and Mary Ann O'Connor. Jean Mueller joined us in the Second Grade and has been with us since that time.

During part of our Grammar School days we were inspired by the superb guidance of our beloved Principal, Sister Mary Stanislaus, now deceased. We plunged into the fundamental studies, and though they seemed difficult at the time, we always mastered them, though of course with a bit of perseverance.

We were thrilled during our Eighth Grade year just at the thought of entering High School at the completion of this year. It was a joyous occasion when we found ourselves in High School. Little did we realize that our Grammar School days had slipped by so quickly. This indeed brought us into contact with courses such as Algebra, Latin, French, Spanish, Chemistry, Shorthand, and the other subjects. We certainly did work hard, or we thought we did, for the credits which we have finally acquired and that will enable us to be the proud possessors of High School diplomas.

In our Sophomore year, Bette Freese, Colleen Moore and Lucy Flynt entered our ranks. During our Junior year, we greeted another new student, Vickie Davis. Dot Miller, a swell girl, joined our eager group in our Senior year.

I can truly say that the past twelve years have proven the happiest days of my life, and I feel sure that the other Seniors, particularly those who have gone through with me, can say the same thing. In the years to come we shall look back and say, "Gee! wouldn't it be swell to be back at dear O'Donoghue at this time of year, when everyone is so excited about another group of graduates (who like ourselves, today) shall pass through O'Donoghue's portals for the last time as students and bid their fellow students farewell."

MARY ANN O'CONNOR.

Last Will and Testament

We, the High School Graduating Class of 1947, feeling sound in body, and, we think, the same in mind, have finally come to the end. Having found it hard, but well worth the struggle, we would like to bestow upon some worthy persons, something to remember each of us.

To our Priests and Sisters, we leave our love and gratitude for seeing us through.

To the Juniors, we leave all the Senior privileges, and if you are good, the number may increase.

To the Sophomores, the honor of being upperclassmen next year.

To the Freshmen, our High School dignity.

Individually, we make the following bequests:

I, Colleen Moore, leave:

My belts to Helen Brown.

About four inches of my height to Joyce Kendall.

My ability to be on time for roll call to Fritz Pelone.

My frizzy hair to Mary Daly.

My ability to tell corny jokes to Sonny.

My gift of pronunciation to my English teacher.

I, Lucy Flynt, leave:

My school spirit to Gloria Williams.

My disposition for finding fault to Jimmy Moffett.

My non-stop vocal chords to Betty Wright.

My messy note book to anyone who wants it.

My appreciation of a certain understanding Sister to Fritz Pelone.

My popularity to Gail Reilly, if she needs it.

I, Frances Ray, leave:

My typing ability to Tommy O'Connor, hoping he will become the world's champion.

My attention in Geometry class to Betty Wright.

My curly hair to Elizabeth Soule, and, Liz, you won't have to roll it every night.

My bottle of beer to Alvin Riddle. Don't drink it all at once.

My love for Notre Dame's football team to Betty Anne Schachner. No remarks, Betty Anne.

I, Mary Agnes Kelley, leave:

Some of my excess avoirdupois to Joyce Kendall. With Colleen's height, you'll need it.

My knack of getting into plenty of trouble to the Junior boys.

My submission to correction to anyone who wants it.

My ability in shorthand to some rising Junior.

My love for the opposite sex to . . . no, I think I'll keep that.

My wild ways to Patty Durbin.

My pleasant disposition to Jerome Hagley, who always comments on it.

My eternal gratitude to a certain Sister, for having given me something that no one else could.

I, Jean Mueller, leave:

To smoo . . . ooooth Lee Anne Bryant, I give a toast.

To Mary Agnes Harris, who has said that she wished she were in my shoes, my saddle oxfords. Big shoes, fewer steps.

To Helen Brown, my quiet ways.

To Joyce Kendall, my angelic voice. "Just a Bird in a Gilded Cage."

I, Dot Miller, leave:

My pencil remains to Wally Besser. Long may they last.

My "get and go" car to Bob Siegle.

My ability to back out of trouble forward to Dick Beatty.

My comb with no teeth and my excess energy to Mary Daly, so that she can find time to comb her hair during Science.

My ambition to go to college to Benton Moffett.

A stick of dynamite to the Freshman boys. Please make use of it, someone, and get them to class on time.

I, Mary Ann O'Connor, leave:

My nickname of "Beanie" to its rightful owner, Margaret Hartl.

My gift of gab to Lee Anne Bryant. Don't waste it, girlie.

My ability to have a good time to Joyce Kendall.

My dramatic ability to do Chemistry problems to Sonny. Your future is assured, Sonny.

I, Bette Freese, leave:

My loose fitting sweater to Mary Ann Bondurant.

My ability to lose weight to Martha Sisk.

My dancing ability to L. Dee Gregory.

All my Senior and any other privileges to Wally Besser.

My love of audible reading to my English Teacher.

I, Viola Davis, leave:

My curly hair to Gloria Williams. Your troubles are over, Gloria.

My knack of being blamed for everything to Patty Neilson.

My ability not to gain a pound to Mary Teresa.

My love for basketball to Lee Anne Bryant.

Last, but not least, I simply leave.

This document signed and sealed on this the second day of June, in the year of our Lord, 1947.

VIOLA DAVIS, Attorney.

Witnesses: WILDCAT WILLIE AND CALEDONIA.

SEPTEMBER—1957

The Merrymakers are assembled in the new deluxe auditorium of O'Donoghue High School waiting for their guests, the class of '47.

The only member of the class in sight at present is Lottie Flynt, now known as Miss Lucianne Flynt, head of World Art Corporation. She is engaged in earnest conversation with the latest singing sensation, a graduate of '49. She's saying, "I know that I'm early, but I wanted to be here to see each of the girls come in. I've waited nearly ten years for this day. I can't wait another minute."

"You won't have to," says our vocalist, "two of them are coming in now, Dot Miller and Colleen Moore."

The greetings are tumultuous, but when things finally quiet down, we learn that these two have collaborated and produced a best seller. We always knew that they could.

About that time we hear a voice saying, "Hello, Johnsons!" No need to look, for anyone knows that it couldn't be anyone else but Bette Freese. We all know that she has become a successful comedienne, because we see her on our television sets every Thursday evening.

Say, isn't that Vickie Davis over there with the five little ones tagging behind her? It certainly is, and aren't they lovely children? We hear that she did a year of professional singing and then gave it up in favor of marriage. She seems to have no regrets.

Coming in now is Mary Ann O'Connor. She owns an exclusive dress shop, and it is said that she does nothing but write out bills for dresses for $100 and up. Nice work, if you can do it.

Here's Mary A. Of course, you know we mean Mary Agnes Kelley. She's head of a big air transport service, and is really happy, since that seems to be the only thing she has ever wanted to do.

It seems that the whole group is here now, but no—there are still two missing. Nearly an hour passes before there is any sign of them, but they are heard coming in. They are the famous dress designer and interior decorator, Jean Mueller and Frances Ray, respectively. They may be famous, but they haven't changed a bit—still late for everything.

The gathering lasts far into the night and finally breaks up to the strains of our school song.

MARY AGNES KELLEY.

Dear Gail,
 We're hoping you always stay like you are now. You are a real cute girl. Let's do some things together this summer.
 Love ya lots,
 Mary Agnes.

Tommy has been in our school for eleven years and here's hoping that he will spend his last year with us. He has a high scholastic standing, and is vitally interested in all that happens in the school, whether it is social or something relating to studies.

Lucy has been with us but two years, but in that time she has become very popular with both faculty and students. She is editor of this year's Annual, and has been most anxious that every undertaking of the school be a huge success.

The O'Donoghue Panthers, having started late in the season, played but two games. The first was played against Belmont Abbey, and the boys from Belmont turned back the hard fighting boys from O'D. by the score, 20-7.

The defensive standouts were Harold Faust, Jim Moffett, Patty Neilson, and Ed Lampke. The offensive star was Tommy O'Connor, who went 97 yards for O'D.'s tally. This was the best offensive game O'D. had played in two years.

In the second game O'D. came through on a questionable passing attack to down A. G. 13-0. Standouts were: the forward wall, Jimmy Moffett and Ed Lampke. The offensive standouts were Tommy O'Connor and Jimmy Moffett for running, and Benton Moffett and Ed Lampke with their two touchdowns, scoring passing combination. The deciding point was made by Jimmy Moffett. This was O'D.'s first victory in two years.

Good luck to a swell girl

A cheer for O'DONOGHUE, the school that we love,
May God's choicest blessings descend from above
On us, her dear children, wherever we are,
May her dear spirit ever be our guiding star.

The girls of O'Donoghue are lovely and sweet,
The likes of them elsewhere, you never will meet.

Dear Hail,

I had it all planned about what I was going to write but now I've started I'm just speaking. I'll try to do my best to write what I feel. During these past two years we've had our troubles and fun together & I guess at times you got pretty disgusted with me telling you my troubles time after time about the same people (P.D.) but I have a lot of confidence in you & I always felt good after I had told you. I've also really enjoyed listening to your troubles and I hope in the future you will continue to tell me them. Enough of this subject. Remember all the fun we've had together. We've really had some swell times. Remember the first night I spent the night with you. It was when I was initiated. I can't spell that word. Do me a favor don't I - walk anymore & if you do stop when the whistle blows. Hail you are a real cute kid & keep up that popularity. I have something to tell you. I am ^{of} not going to Miami. I hope you don't mind too much. I still may move to New York & you are welcomed any time. When I move up there we will do up the town. Don't ever forget that wherever I am you are always welcomed. I may be here next year & if I am I guess I'll be going to O'Donoghue. I know you won't be here because you're going to Central but let's not become strangers. Call me up and tell me all about those cute boys that you'll get to go around in circles and the boys that you fall for. If the distance between us is 600 miles or from here to Central don't let it come between us. Let's always be friends & if we write to each other maybe you'll remember me & invite me to your wedding. As I told you I'm not any good at writing things like this & I'm running out of things to say but I want you to know that I think an awful lot of you & if in any way you need help I'll give it to you gladly. I'm awfully sorry about what I put in your annual. You know I didn't mean anything by it but I guess it was silly of me. You should know by now that I'm silly anyway. You're real cute & I love you lots. Don't ever change & I hope you'll always have me as your friend & one of your best friends too because you'll always be

P.S. I'm still trying to get you know what. I should be discouraged already. I'm also glad that we are going to the beach together. We had so much fun last year. A little trouble about you know what but that is my specialty. I guess I fooled you & I'll save some of those Yankee toys for you. I guess I fooled you.
